TRAINER QUALIFICATIONS

The experts leading the training are specialists in the covered subjects. They have been approved by our instructional teams for both their professional knowledge and their teaching ability, for each course they teach. They have at least five to ten years of experience in their field and hold (or have held) decision-making positions in companies.

ASSESSMENT TERMS

The trainer evaluates each participant's academic progress throughout the training using multiple choice, scenarios, hands-on work and more. Participants also complete a placement test before and after the course to measure the skills they've developed.

1 HR risks in the workplace

- Identify types of risk: social risks, health and safety risks, economic and financial risks, etc.
- Assess the criticality of risks: probability and impact.
- Risk mapping: risk matrix, summary table.
- Identify the causes of risks using brainstorming and the Ishikawa matrix.

Hands-on work

Using case studies, participants identify a type of HR risk and create realistic scenarios, analyzing causes, impacts and preventive measures.

2 HR risk analysis

- Analyze HR performance indicators: turnover rate, absenteeism rate, accident costs, etc.
- Study salary indicators: salary trends, bonuses, etc.
- Examine operational incidents and losses: frequency, severity, etc.

Hands-on work

Using case studies, participants analyze and interpret data collected on HR risks.

3 Stakeholders in risk management

- Involve the CSE (social and economic committee).
- Alert the IRP (Instances représentatives du personnel) and the CSSCT.
- Communicating with managers: presenting KPIs (Key Performance Indicators), etc.
- Support employees through awareness-raising and training initiatives.

Role-playing

Scenario simulation to develop effective communication and collaboration skills with stakeholders.

4 Implement and monitor risk management

- Using the DUERP to assess and manage occupational risks.
- Regular updates for continuous improvement.
- Implement monitoring indicators via a social dashboard.

Hands-on work

Development of an action plan for implementing and monitoring the DUERP for risks in participants' companies.

TEACHING AIDS AND TECHNICAL RESOURCES

- The main teaching aids and instructional methods used in the training are audiovisual aids, documentation and course material, hands-on application exercises and corrected exercises for practical training courses, case studies and coverage of real cases for training seminars.
- At the end of each course or seminar, ORSYS provides participants with a course evaluation questionnaire that is analysed by our instructional teams.
- A check-in sheet for each half-day of attendance is provided at the end of the training, along with a course completion certificate if the trainee attended the entire session.
