

Course : Accessible writing with FALC and alternative texts

Practical course - 3d - 21h00 - Ref. FLC

Price : 1800 € E.T.

The FALC (Facile À Lire et à Comprendre) method clarifies information for people with cognitive disabilities. Text alternatives reveal the information conveyed by the presentation or image to the visually impaired. These approaches encourage autonomy.

Teaching objectives

At the end of the training, the participant will be able to:

- ✓ Using the written word to facilitate access to digital technology and buildings for people with disabilities
- ✓ Make all facets of information accessible, including operational information
- ✓ Meeting information needs without overloading
- ✓ Write simple texts adapted to specific needs
- ✓ Implementing the concept of "relevance" in accessibility

Intended audience

Responsible for a building's informal signage (displaying information), creator of digital content, responsible for managing the dematerialization of procedures.

Prerequisites

No special knowledge required.

Practical details

Hands-on work

Information content analysis of various non-accessible media. Workshops on writing accessible texts: FALC and alternative texts.

Course schedule

PARTICIPANTS

Responsible for a building's informal signage (displaying information), creator of digital content, responsible for managing the dematerialization of procedures.

PREREQUISITES

No special knowledge required.

TRAINER QUALIFICATIONS

The experts leading the training are specialists in the covered subjects. They have been approved by our instructional teams for both their professional knowledge and their teaching ability, for each course they teach. They have at least five to ten years of experience in their field and hold (or have held) decision-making positions in companies.

ASSESSMENT TERMS

The trainer evaluates each participant's academic progress throughout the training using multiple choice, scenarios, hands-on work and more. Participants also complete a placement test before and after the course to measure the skills they've developed.

1 Understanding the purpose of accessible writing

- Identify the role of information in accessibility.
- Identify means of information: text, image, sound...
- Study how the text serves the needs of audiences with disabilities.
- Identify the RGAA criteria concerned.
- Assess the impact on the rate of compliance with the standard.

Hands-on work

Analyze the meaning and impact of related RGAA criteria.

2 Meeting cognitive needs with FALC

- Identify needs arising from cognitive disabilities.
- Interpret the notion of "cryptic content" in the RGAA.
- Analyze what makes cryptic content explicit.
- Simplifying the complex for a mentally challenged adult.
- Identify non-textual content covered by FALC.

Hands-on work

Explore cryptic content.

3 Overcoming writing difficulties

- Organize information to clarify it.
- Rephrase unintelligible sentences.
- Use simple syntax and appropriate vocabulary.
- Eliminate figurative language in favor of examples.
- Facilitate visual access to meaning.

Hands-on work

Use FALC to inform or guide you through an online process.

4 Text alternatives to support impaired vision

- Understand the uses and needs of the visually impaired.
- Distinguish between "decorative" and "informative", "aesthetic" and "semantic".
- Decode non-textual information and state it in a few words.
- Aim for usefulness and efficiency: when, what to describe and how many signs.

Hands-on work

Evaluate the information conveyed by non-textual content.

5 Transcribe non-text with relevance

- Describe non-textual content: media, tables, graphics, interactive zones...
- Differentiate between "alt" attributes and image captions.
- Explain symbolisms (art, humor...).
- Help you find your way around a page by titling your regions.
- Write accessible hypertext links.

Hands-on work

Write text alternatives for non-text content.

TEACHING AIDS AND TECHNICAL RESOURCES

- The main teaching aids and instructional methods used in the training are audiovisual aids, documentation and course material, hands-on application exercises and corrected exercises for practical training courses, case studies and coverage of real cases for training seminars.
- At the end of each course or seminar, ORSYS provides participants with a course evaluation questionnaire that is analysed by our instructional teams.
- A check-in sheet for each half-day of attendance is provided at the end of the training, along with a course completion certificate if the trainee attended the entire session.

TERMS AND DEADLINES

Registration must be completed 24 hours before the start of the training.

ACCESSIBILITY FOR PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

Do you need special accessibility accommodations? Contact Mrs. Fosse, Disability Manager, at psh-accueil@orsys.fr to review your request and its feasibility.

6 Serving all audiences through text

- Appreciate the role of the content creator.
- Find ways to formulate better.
- Write FALC text alternatives.
- Reconciling recommendations with accessibility standards.
- Complement writing with other accessible practices.

Hands-on work

Write FALC text alternatives or arbitrate contradictions.
